Message Sent to Legion

First Procession of Organized Labor Since 1917 Is Reviewed in Boston

BALTIMORE, Sept. 5 .- General John Pershing this morning headed a parde of several thousand ex-service men which served as a climax to Buddy week here. With fifteen bands, former members of the 29th and 79th Divisions, as well as representatives of some units of the Rainbow Division, who have been in Baltimore for reunions of veterans of World War outfits, marched through the center of the city amid cheers of holiday crowds.

General Pershing rode in an automooile with Governor Albert C. Ritchie. France was represented by Lieutenant jobless. James Lavat, military attaché of the French Embassy, who rode in a car with Mayor William J. Broening. World War heroes and Grand Army veterans also were in automobiles.

means finds repess also in the hearts of members of the American Legion, J. C. Scrugham, national vice-president of the American Legion, declared in a statement to-day.

"Members of the Legion are devoted by their declaration of principle to the protection and advancement of the wesfare of the country." said Mr. Scrugham. "This welfare, embracing the supremacy of law and the preservation of popular government; may best be attained in the just recognition by all Americans of the essential rights and privileges of labor."

Declares 'Humanity Is Strangled by the Lawyers Legalistic Concepts'

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
BALTIMORE, Sept. 5.—More than 30,000 persons heard Samuel Gompers, president of the American Faderation of Labor, scathingly arraign members of the American Bar Association for their hostile stitude toward union labor at to-day's celebration in this at to-day's celebration in this are swarming around your gates looking for work are the same human beings as yourself. They have the same appraisance for the West Virapping and to-day's celebration in this are swarming around your gates looking for justice for the West Virapping and the same appraisance of the same a labor at to-day's celebration in this pealed for justice for the West Virpealed for justice for the West Virginia miners and wished godspeed to the conference in the limitation of armaments.

"In their recent meeting the American Bar Association tried to convince the public that they are really sincere in their denunciation of unions. They are a group of parasites who produce nothing but trouble, upon which they live. Humanity in strangled by the lawyers' legalistic concepts; their utterances and actions are in favor of those who offer the most remunerative field. Let me offer up a simple prayer, "Lord God on High. I beseech Thee, save the people of our country from the lawyers."

"The men of labor insist upon their rights guaranteed by the Constitution, including right to be heard by counsel. But we do not select lawyers to argue strength to-day in the first Labor Day parade attempted by them for five years.

Twoscore of unions lined up for a parade through the principal streets. On their way past the State House and City Hall they were reviewed by Governor Cox and Mayor Peters.

Two hundred unemployed men later marched to the City Hall and paid a visit to Mayor Peters. They lined up on the steps while their spokesman read a petition which among other things asked for public improvements, which would give the jobless men employment.

The petition also thanked the Mayor for allowing the men to sleep on Boston Common, but called his attention to the fact that the weather would soon prohibit this. It asked that the Wayfarers' Lodge, a city institution where homeless men are given a night's lodging for three hours' woodchopping, be arranged to accommodate more men.

The Mayor, who some time ago spent a night incognito at the Ledge and chopped wood in the morning, replied briefly. He said he had a number of public improvements in mind and if they were put through, the contractors would be sure to hire some of the jobless.
